Convention Ready for Showdown On Nominees and Party Policies

Last of 16 Presidential Candidates Formally Presented to Delegates—Platform All Ready Except for Troublesome Klan Issue, Which Will Be Fought Out on Floor of Madison Square Garden.

Night Session Probable

Balloting for Party's Choice Expected to Begin in Evening After Differences Over Principles Have Been Eradicated—Dark Horse Leaders Confident of Victory.

New York, June 27.—After four days of oratorical flourish and colorful demonstration, the Democratic national convention is ready for its final showdown on nominees and policies.

In another long and noisy session today it received in formal nomination the names of the last of its 16 presidential candidates, and was informed that its platform had been completed in committee except for the troublesome planks of the Ku Klux Klan, which must be perfected on the floor of the convention itself.

Meeting an hour earlier than usual tomorrow, it will fight out its difference over the platform and then, probably at a night session, begin balloting for a nominee.

The developments of the last few hours before the test of strength showed outwardly no shift of sentiment on either candidate or platform. McAdoo and Smith still led the field in the delegate strength pledged to them on the first ballot and the supporters of John W. Davis, Ralston, Glass, Ritchie, and several others, claimed victory after the deadlock has run its course. The debate over open condemnation of the Klan went on with growing bitterness, and the extent to which the party should affirm its faith in the League of Nations appeared to be as much an open question as when the convention assembled on Tuesday.

Rival Camps on War Footing.
Tonight the campaign managers for the rival candidates put their camps on a war footing for the initial battle of the convention.

McAdoo made a final desperate effort to prepare something tangible as a basis of debate when the controversial planks reached the convention floor.

All of today's convention session was taken up with nominating and seconding speeches for candidates to the usual accompaniment of noise-making. When the end of the seven hours which had been devoted to that stage of the convention came at last, there was only a feeble remonstrance against the proposal of party chiefs to adjourn until tomorrow.

Besides the 15 entered formally on the roll of candidates, three or four others probably will receive complimentary votes of their states for the first ballot or two, distributing the convention strength so widely that several roll calls will be necessary before the rival managers can complete their list of nominees.

These roll calls will be taken before the adjournment tomorrow night, will give the political captains a basis for the jockeying and maneuvering that is expected over the weekend.

Sixteen Men Named.
The 16 placed in nomination when the roll closed just before adjournment late today are as follows:

Oscar W. Underwood, Alabama.
Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas.
William G. McAdoo, California.
William F. Trammell, Delaware.
Samuel M. Ralston, Indiana.
J. Nathan M. Davis, Kansas.
Albert C. Ritchie, Maryland.
Woodbridge N. Ferris, Michigan.
David F. Houston, Missouri.
Charles W. Bryan, Nebraska.
Fred H. Brown, New Hampshire.
George S. Ralston, New Jersey.
Alfred E. Smith, New York.
James M. Cox, Ohio.
Otter Glass, Virginia.
John W. Davis, West Virginia and New York.

Six of these—Cox, Bryan, Brown, Ralston, Glass, and John W. Davis—were placed in nomination at today's session, and the nominating speeches for them were interrupted with a dozen seconding speeches for those whose names previously had been put before the convention. Demonstrations of varying proportions accompanied every mention of the name of a candidate, but both delegates and convention officials had begun to weary of the long monotony of oratory and noise and a sign of relief came over the vast assemblage when McAdoo came to an end.

One of two of the new elements brought into the preliminary turmoil of the convention, that on the whole the day was the most featureless since the opening of the convention at New York.

AL SMITH'S DEMONSTRATION

Here's how Madison Square Garden appeared at the height of the demonstration for Al Smith. Thousands joined in the song of "Sidewalks of New York" as bands played the famous Tannhauser march. "East Side, West Side" men and women shouted until they were hoarse. And outside on the streets many thousands were gathered to celebrate in honor of Smith.

Adoo and Governor Smith those labor men who know the labor records of both prefer Governor Smith.

Here "Sentiment of Signers."

Mr. Holland in his statement contended that the declaration of the railroad chiefs represented "nothing but the sentiment of the signers and those with whom they are associated."

The rail chiefs' declaration was signed by Timothy Shea of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; B. M. Jewell, head of the railway division of the American Federation of Labor; A. O. Wharton, labor member of the Railroad Labor Board; J. A. Franklin, president of the Boiler-makers and Iron Ship Builders' union; J. G. Lusk, president of the American Train Dispatchers; and E. T. Milliken of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees.

"There is no other available candidate to whom the working man will give the same unqualified support," the statement said. "Neither the Republican party nominee, nor the platform adopted by the Republican convention is acceptable to the organized workers affiliated with the conference for progressive political action."

Cox Supporters Joyful.
New York, June 27.—Supporters of former Governor John W. Cox were joyful tonight over the many pledges of support they say they received today following Newton D. Baker's speech placing the other man's name in nomination.

The Cox backers claimed that the party's candidate in 1924 is the real Legion of Nations supporter among the numerous candidates and that he should be re-nominated this year because of the hard fight he made in the campaign four years ago. His supporters made no effort to effect a demonstration today when his name was placed in nomination.

"Cox is the best man and he will be nominated," declared Charles E. Morris, chief of staff of Cox headquarters. "He is entitled to another opportunity."

Smith Men Busy.
New York, June 27.—Adherents of the movement to bring about the presidential nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York by the Democratic national convention, as they tried tonight their best to test the strength of their own candidates and begin to make for the prize as soon as the party platform had been adopted by the convention.

"Developments of the day have been most encouraging," Franklin D. Roosevelt, manager of the Smith campaign, said. "We have received pledges of support from some of the south and southwestern delegates."

Mr. Roosevelt declared emphatically that he or any of the Smith workers had attempted to "bribe" for support, or had tried to "bribe" for support, or had tried to "bribe" for support.

Dead For Carrying Luggage.
New York, June 27.—Joseph A. Maguire, Chicagoan, a human and a true friend to the laborer, died today of a heart attack while on duty as a porter at the Federal Hotel.

The two men were arrested in connection with the case of a man named John F. Kelly, who was charged with carrying a package containing a bomb.

Frank Brown of New York, chairman of the national committee on prohibition, was elected national chairman of the I. O. O. F. at the fourth annual convention here tonight.

GIRL DISAPPEARS, THEN COMES HOME

Suffers Loss of Memory Brought on by Accident on Riding Device of Amusement Park

Newark, N. J., June 27.—Suffering from a loss of memory brought on by an accident on a riding device at an amusement park more than a month ago, 18-year-old Blanche Gale, daughter of Arthur Gale, Newark, manufacturer, early yesterday morning mysteriously disappeared and did not reach home until late today when she was delivered to her parents by a boy friend whom she met in her wanderings.

The girl reached home in a state of exhaustion. Her father declared she apparently spent last night on a bench in a park near the Newark-Elizabeth city line. Miss Gale told her parents the last she remembered was sitting on a park bench.

Early this morning the girl became cognizant of her predicament. She said she asked for directions and commenced walking toward the downtown section of Newark.

Miss Gale suffered a lapse of memory while on her way home from her father's office yesterday morning. She was neither heard of nor seen until late today. Pout play was suspected by the parents.

Plattsburg, June 26.—Prohibition enforcement agents today seized 206 cases of liquor believed to be Canadian ale in the summer home of Mrs. W. J. Pike, a well-known local figure.

Mrs. Pike, who has not occupied her summer home in some time, told enforcement agents she would lend every assistance in clearing up the case.

Compromise League of Nations and Klan Planks Will Be Presented at Today's Session

MUCH DISCUSSION

Some Delegates Believe League Draft Not Strong Enough Other That It Is Too Strong—Referendum Suggested

(By the Associated Press)
New York, June 27.—A minority report on the League of Nations question as well as on the Ku Klux Klan issue will be presented tomorrow to the Democratic national convention.

Newton D. Baker, secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson, prepared an alternative plank late tonight after a sub-committee had reported to the resolutions committee a compromise plank on the League which, among other things, would declare for a nationwide referendum on the question of American membership.

Human Slaughter Unnecessary

The compromise League plank was a composite of the planks submitted by Owen D. Young of New York, formerly of the Dawes reparations commission; John H. Clarke, president of the League of Nations Non-Partisan association; Newton D. Baker, Senator Caraway of Arkansas and Alfred E. Lueking, member of the committee from Michigan. Its text follows:

"The Democratic party pledges all its energies to the outlawing of the whole war system. We refuse to believe that the wholesale slaughter of human beings on the battlefields is any longer necessary to man's highest development than killings by individuals."

"The whole hope for world peace and for economic recovery lies in the organized efforts of nations combining to remove the cause of war and substituting law and order for violence."

"The Democratic party declares a practical plan was devised under which 14 nations are now operating and have been for the past four years, while the United States government for the last four years has had no foreign policy and consequently has delayed the restoration of political and economic conditions in the world which has impaired self respect at home and diminished prestige abroad; has curtailed foreign commerce and ruined agriculture."

"It is of supreme importance to civilization and mankind that America be placed on the right side of the greatest moral question of all times. The Democratic party declares its principle of rendering assistance in the high purpose of establishing world peace through the League of Nations and the world court of justice which it recognizes as institutions representing the supreme effort of statesmanship."

"Therefore, the Democratic party, declares the purpose of the next administration to do all in its power to secure that moral leadership in the family of nations which in the providence of God we are called upon to assume."

"There is no substitute for the League of Nations as an agency operating for world peace. Therefore, we declare in the interest of peace that we will establish a permanent foreign policy under which these supreme questions may be settled not subject to change."

Three Klan Planks Prepared

Three planks with respect to the Ku Klux Klan were presented. That which omitted the name of the invisible empire was prepared by William Jennings Bryan. That naming the Klan constituted a composition of the anti-Klan forces in general. There was, however, an additional plank prepared by W. Underwood, one of the candidates for the presidential nomination.

The Bryan plank, which leaves out any specific mention of the Klan, reaffirms the devotion of the Democratic party to the fundamental principles contained in the constitution providing for the free exercise of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and the right of the people to free assembly.

The Great Commoner declared that four years hence the Klan organization will have been forgotten and he pleaded with the committee to avoid any action that would divide the Democratic party. He said he would support no movement which would stir up one of our ancient animosities.

The third of so-called American planks, is lengthy, reviewing the history of organizations of that character, and making specific reference to the "No Noddy" party of 1896. It declares that the Democratic party openly opposed the "No Noddy" and that there is no reason why it should not specifically oppose the Ku Klux Klan.

CARRIED NEWS BACK TO TEXAS

Of His Discovery in Making of the Fruit Treatment

This is the way people find out about the wonders of the new Fruit Treatment, because it is carried back to Texas and told others, which accounts for the steadily growing demand for "Fruit-a-tives", made of the intensified juices of apples, oranges, figs and pinesapples. How it was learned of "Fruit-a-tives". "Some time ago, while in Portland, Maine, I was suffering from indigestion, nervousness and insomnia. A friend there gave me some 'Fruit-a-tives'. Continued treatment made me feel so much better that I wish everyone to know 'Fruit-a-tives' as I did—no other treatment ever did me so much good." — S. J. Mitchell, Zie and Co., a box at dealers—or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Was responded to by Mrs. Stearns.

Toast—"The West." Rev. Mark Rifenbark, vicar of St. Clement's Episcopal church of California.

Violin solo, Louis D'Imperio.

Robert D'Imperio, the four-year-old drummer boy, gave several selections, accompanied by his father and mother, which delighted his listeners.

Mrs. Mable Ware Bailey of Downsville, a former popular teacher in the U. H. S. was also invited to address the company. It would be very pleasant to quote from each of the speakers and to express the enjoyment and enthusiasm with which each was received. One listener trying to describe it said, "It was the best most appropriate and interesting I ever heard," but adjectives failed. Just this, those who came from away were listened to as eagerly as they listened to the old school friends.

After the banquet some of the guests enjoyed dancing and others social intercourse with earlier friends and classmates.

WHAT else do you want to know about a motor truck?

The answers to these three questions determine your truck's earnings—in dollars and cents.

White Trucks answer these questions profitably. They will haul more goods more miles at less cost than any other motor truck. The proof is the 28,131 White Trucks operated by the 753 owners in fleets of ten or more—and thousands of White Trucks in smaller fleets and single installations.

FOURTH AND FIREWORKS

The near approach of the Fourth of July is occasion again for calling attention to the prevalent use and misuse of fireworks in noisy proclamation of the great day, and also for warning to those who by reckless and inconsiderate acts may do much harm. Already the police authorities of Oneonta have had occasion to issue a notice, in which the fact that those firing rockets, crackers and other forms of holiday explosives within certain specified city limits will be prosecuted for the offense; and the stand which they have taken will in general be approved.

As yesterday stated, there is probably no disposition on the part of anyone to demand that the authorities strictly enforce the law on Independence day or the evening previous. A reasonable amount of latitude in celebration within such time limits will not generally be disapproved. What is objected to is the beginning of the celebration several days before the big event and continuing it for several days after. So prolonged the noise becomes monotonous and the real celebration loses its punch. Also, there is always danger of fire, and an unnecessary burden of watchfulness is imposed upon the peace officers.

It is therefore asked that within the narrow limits suggested the law be strictly obeyed, and that even on the holiday there be caution in the discharge of explosives in the vicinity of hospitals and wherever there are known to be persons seriously ill. The celebration is of the day of liberty, not of license; and since our government from 1776 established is one of self-government, it becomes us as true Americans to govern ourselves with due consideration for the rights, health and comfort of others.

BASEBALL IN ONEONTA

Oneonta this season has certainly one of the best teams which it has ever seen. The fortunes of the community to get together; and the organization, if it is generally conceded, deserves from our citizens not only mere appreciation in the way of liberal commendation, but of actual support and encouragement, the latter by way of attendance. It is good work which the team is doing, and it is good support to which they are entitled, since their presence during the summer months, in the city, supplies a fine source of wholesome recreation and brings to the city many friends and strangers who also delight in good baseball.

For these reasons it is suggested that Oneontans give liberal patronage to the national sport; that they attend the games when possible, and that they root consistently for the home team. Presence in the grand stand or on the bleachers encourages the players and management, and financially also it is of benefit when the matter of a nine next year is considered, and the more zealous enthusiasts begin work for the team of 1925. If citizens show by their own attendance and interest that they want baseball next year, they will be likely to get it.

PAVING REPAIRS.

It is matter for regret that up to this time the paving repairs on Main street, the nature of which was several weeks ago definitely determined, have not been begun. The reason for this is understood to have been delay in receipt of materials, a condition for which the contractors are not to blame, since these materials were ordered weeks ago. The condition, however, is cause of inconvenience, since the end of June brings the beginning of the tourist season, and the next two months will see many thousands of tourists east and west who, in addition to the regular business of citizens and neighbors, will suffer from it.

From the first the contractors have shown a commendable disposition to do the fair thing to remedy an unfortunate condition, and unquestionably they will do so now. That they will be able to obtain required material, the machinery being now on the ground, and to proceed with dispatch is the hope of all.

BAKER LEAVES OWEGO.

Plant of B. K. Company to be dismantled, a move to Wino.

Owego, June 27.—One of the worst blows to the industry of this village fell yesterday when it was announced that the head of the Julius Kayser Glove company of Brooklyn has issued orders that the local plant is to be dismantled and the plant sold. This industry came to Owego many years ago and has been one of the industries upon which the faith of the town seemed certain. Not nearly so many people are employed now as were kept busy nearly a score of years ago when the skilled workers among the women earned $42 every two weeks. The Kayser Glove auxiliary has been a wonderful help in charitable and social work.

It is needless to say that Owego as a whole is sorry to hear this news. This factory never had a strike.

Must Renew Registration.

First laws, dentists, veterinarians and druggists liable to special tax as distributors of narcotic drugs must renew their registration under the Harrison act, as amended, on or before July 1.

The records of the collector of the tax indicate only 700 of the 2,000 taxpayers have filed applications for renewal. If the applications covering registration for the period commencing July 1, 1924, are not filed with the collector on or before July 1, the penalty provided by the Harrison act will be assessed.

BY THE SCISSORS ROUTE

News of the Long Ago.

Digging into the files of 25 years ago, the New York Herald Tribune turns up this odd bit of news of June, 1894: "The movement to protect the horses in New York streets from the summer sun has reached almost ridiculous extremes. Many sunbonnets are worn on equine heads. The most popular style is a peaked straw with red-lined holes for the ears." Philadelphia Record.

A Quondam Family.

Not at all superstitious and looking forward to see what the year 1925 will have in store for them, Mr. and Mrs. Hippolyte Hipp, living near Fardine, Neb., now have enough leap year experiences to begin a story book. Mrs. Hipp was born in leap year at Five Hill, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. Hipp were married in leap year and three children have come to them in leap years, including one born this year.—Omaha Bee.

Two-Thirds Rule.

The question which confronts the Democratic National convention in the present agitation over the two-thirds rule is not so much the wisdom and fairness of the rule itself as the wisdom and fairness of abrogating it before the Madison Square Garden gathering begins to ballot.—New York Sun.

Yankees of the South.

The Charlotte News, published in the thriving and energetic North Carolina city where textile manufacturing forms the basic industry, paints a happy picture of southern industrial prospects in an editorial of recent date. To us here in the north the satisfaction of the southern city over its textile prospects is just one more alarmist element in our situation. The Charlotte newspaper ascribes a large part of the prosperity of North Carolina to the influx of northern, principally Massachusetts, people, whose knowledge of the textile industry has made Charlotte grow and become a powerful competitor against the northern industries. The North Carolinians now admit the applicability of the term "Yankees of the South," and confess a liking for the appellation.—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

Senator Lodge.

If Senator Lodge is not impervious to criticism and argument he must realize that he has by his recent course lost the confidence of his party. The sooner his fellow Republicans in the senate proceed to action without him the better. The Senator has a long and honorable career behind him. He has done great service to his party and his nation. He deserves and he has received every honor and consideration. In return he has lately failed the party and the country at highly critical moments. It is impossible that Republicans shall look to him for guidance with respect to these issues.—New York Herald Tribune.

Children's Day at Emmons Church.

Children's day at the Emmons Methodist Episcopal church will be held Sunday, June 29, at 2:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

What Body of Yours

By James W. Barnes, M.D., SUNBURN.

You will be getting away on a vacation when the midsummer months arrive, and one of your worries may be the matter of sunburn.

As you know the acquiring of a coat of tan is considered a part of the vacation, and you might feel yourself cheated if you didn't get your share. Yet you have friends who go out into the sun and actually invite a real sunburn and are scarcely red-dened.

Now why is this? Well, there are rays in the sun that actually cause a chemical action on the skin, just as do the x-rays, or the rays from radium. It is these same rays which reflected off the snow in Arctic regions that cause snow blindness, and the inflammation of the eyes in the tropics from the glare of the sun.

After the rays have acted upon the skin the parts exposed become very red, hot, and often swollen. A severe blistering often occurs, and the smarting is most intense.

When this fades away, as it does in a short time, the skin peels off, and the skin becomes darker.

Now, this darkening of the skin is nature's way of preventing further burning.

Who is it who is so stupid as to stay all the time acquires a coat of "tan" and thereafter is not bothered with sunburn.

You get a coat of tan in the summer which gradually wears away during the winter and spring, and so you are ready for a fresh burning the following summer.

It would appear then, that at some previous time your friend or his ancestors must have acquired such a "tanning" that the skin has developed so much coloring matter that the sun does not have much effect upon it.

Dr. E. J. Parish and Dr. S. A. Merens have been elected members of the medical staff of the Fox Memorial hospital.

Louis Mills, now employed at the barber shop of N. D. Ogden, has purchased a shop at Afton and will leave on Monday next to take possession.

Centennial lodge elected the following officers last evening: N. G. E. V. Brown; V. G. W. H. Sessions; secretary, Henry Peck; treasurer, Thomas Lord; trustee, Leonard Leck; janitor, W. Underdown; representative to grand lodge, John Brown; proxy representative, G. F. Koehler.

Fairview street, from the viaduct several feet west, is being substantially improved. The grade of the street will be raised two feet, to be on a level with Main at the intersection of the two streets and this will cut out, to a large extent, the hill below the viaduct. The street will be widened to a width of 60 feet on both sides. A portion of it at the viaduct end will be paved with cobble stones. The gravel used in filling and grading the street is taken from the new armory lot.

A pint bottle of Golden Star whiskey, found near a local hardware store, may be recovered by calling and paying for this notice.

Prof. Wilbur H. Lynch, principal of the Intermediate department of the Oneonta Normal school, departed yesterday for Fort Covington, where this morning he will be united in marriage with Miss Minnie E. Gills, at her home in that village.

Bicycling is coming more and more into favor in Oneonta among the ladies. Of late some of the first socially have been directing their energy to the mastery of that popular vehicle, at the Pine Grove park, and not unsuccessfully, according to the report of those most interested in creating an interest among the ladies for cycling. It is a healthy pastime much practiced in cities outside Oneonta.

We are reliably informed that a building at the corner of Main and Elm streets has been leased to a party and will be used as a clothing shop. It is very unfortunate that Mr. Barnes has not followed plans of a few months since erected on this site a handsome block. A blacksmith shop with a large sign will be erected on the lot, and the locality or parties who must pass that corner to reach their homes.

Harrison Reunion.

The nineteenth annual reunion of the Harrison families was held June 24th at Neahua park. 250 long present. Relatives were present from Wisconsin, West Virginia, and Oneonta. All reported that the day had been a very pleasant one and one that would be long remembered.

MACCABEE MOTOR TOUR

Fraternal Order Plans Widespread Pilgrimage to Washington to Emphasize Fraternal Order Benefits.

Detroit, June 27.—The extent to which fraternal benefit societies give social and fraternal services without charge, in addition to insurance, was illustrated by A. W. Frye, supreme commander of the Maccabees, in an address at a welfare conference here.

"Homes, schools and sanatoriums are maintained in every part of the United States and Canada by fraternal orders and their members are entitled to these benefits," said Mr. Frye. "The Maccabees, for example, maintain seven separate benefit activities: The National home at Chatham, Pa., old age pensions in the aged members' own homes, orphan home and school at Chatham, aid in their own homes for half orphans, sanitarium care for tuberculosis patients, sanitarium care for cancer cases, and a general relief fund, available for any emergency that may befall a Maccabee and call for relief by the order."

In addition to these benefits are the social activities which all fraternal societies maintain through their lodges, which are really clubs with beneficial education and patriotic features.

A motor caravan tour from every part of the United States and Canada to Washington next summer. More than 10,000 members of the order will participate and it will be the greatest automobile tour ever seen.

"Reorganization of fraternal benefit societies on a legal reserve basis is the greatest step forward fraternal insurance has ever made. It is a fundamental change that affects the very foundation of the fraternal benefit system. By going on a legal reserve basis the habits of the order are put on a safe and scientific basis of security. The experience of the past few years has demonstrated that the societies can operate on a legal reserve foundation without any diminution of their fraternal benefits."

THE GUIDE POST—

BY Henry and Tertius VanDyke

The Limits of Omnipotence

Love never faileth.—I Corinthians 13:8.

Perhaps the weakest point in our knowledge of God is our misapprehension of his omnipotence.

We confuse omnipotence with arbitrary power.

We argue in the abstract about omnipotence apart from consistency of character.

And we end up with the most trifling caricature of God.

We must begin rightly with the faith that Jesus taught us that all things are possible with God.

And then we must observe (what Jesus also taught us) that the power of God is not arbitrary but consistent, that God is carrying out His will for and through men by the self-imposed limitation inherent in love.

He cannot make evil good; he cannot make the false true.

He cannot violate the sacred rights of personality.

Such limitations are the very evidence of moral omnipotence.

For love is the one thing that can never fail.

It can be delayed, thwarted temporarily.

It can suffer and even die—temporarily.

In the end love rises up again and finally wins the victory.

The limits of omnipotence are set by love which never faileth.

—Mrs. W. F. Eggeston entertained about 15 ladies at an afternoon bridge party at her residence on Maple street yesterday afternoon.

—It is reported that there was a gathering of the Ku Klux Klan at Cliffside on Goodyear lake on Thursday evening and that a cross was burned.

—Troop 2 of the Girl Scouts will hold a bake sale at Gilderleeve's drug store today, beginning at 10 o'clock. The sale is being given for the benefit of the camping fund.

—Rev. J. A. Judge will deliver the address of the day at the Fourth of July celebration at Treadwell. The Delhi band will furnish music during the day. Extensive preparations have been made and a large attendance is expected.

—Royal Rebekah lodge, together with their families, gave a picnic yesterday afternoon and evening at Wilber park. Games and other amusements were enjoyed, after which a splendid supper was served to about 75 persons.

—Registration starts today for the Normal Summer school, which will begin its sessions on Monday, and every train yesterday brought its quota of young ladies. It is not expected that there will be quite as large an enrollment as in former summers.

—Judson Blodgett of Cobleskill has been added to the twirling staff of the Oneonta Giants. Blodgett, who spent the first few weeks of the season with the Johnsons team, is a left hander with a world of stuff on the ball and should prove a very valuable acquisition.

—Justice A. L. Kellogg will hold a special term of supreme court in chambers here until 10 a. m. this morning. This evening Justice Kellogg will be a guest at the annual banquet of the Tompkins County Bar association at Ithaca. Mrs. Kellogg will accompany him on the motor trip.

—Complaint reaches The Star that in some places higher prices are being maintained for gasoline while in most places hereabouts a reduction to 13 cents has been made. While no definite statement has been made it is not improbable that the dealers who are still charging the higher price have a supply on hand for which the higher wholesale price was paid.

—In yesterday's Star in announcing the annual One Cent Sale at Baker's garment shop, the advertisement was made to read that the store is open evenings. The copy sent and the advertisement should have read that the sale opened at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Baker has no intention of breaking away from the usual closing hours observed by the members of the Merchants' association. The Star regrets that its error caused Mr. Baker any annoyance.

THE COVERED WAGON

Most Famous Motion Picture Ever Made to Appear on Oneonta Theatre All Next Week.

"The Covered Wagon," the most famous motion picture ever produced and the one which packed the Criterion theatre in New York city month after month, has been secured for the Oneonta theatre and will be shown at that playhouse for a solid week commencing next Monday.

That "The Covered Wagon" is one of the greatest photoplays ever made will be the opinion of all those who see the colossal production. That is the prediction made not only by Mr. Cruze himself, but by those who have seen the picture and who hail it for its bigness, impressiveness and extraordinary realism.

Perfect realism, a strong love theme, tremendous dramatic action, thrills that are utterly unlike the ordinary sort; a background of real news to the screen, where the camera has never before been ground; all these facts, coupled with the splendid cast of virtually 1,000 men and women, certainly indicate a picture that is worthy of any director's enthusiasm. And James Cruze is enthusiastic. He has believed in the picture from the start and with each day of shooting, sometimes under conditions almost unbelievably difficult, his enthusiasm has grown. Nor is he alone in his belief, for every person in the drama of the old time western days shares his convictions.

The story with the vast sweep of the western plains for background, across which wind the "covered wagons" with their human freight, is essentially good picture material. The plot is dramatic with the interest well sustained, and the story unfolds like a stirring panorama of an earlier day.

ANOTHER THRILLER PROMISED

Oneonta Giants and Kingston to Clash at Neahwa Park at 3:30 O'clock This Afternoon.

It is safe to say that everybody who witnessed yesterday's thrilling battle between the Giants and the Colonials at Neahwa park will be in the stands again today and that many others who heard the story of the same will wend their way across the tracks this afternoon. It was a real ball game yesterday and with Kingston aching for revenge and Oneonta flushed with triumph and resolved to make it two straight games of great interest is assured.

Yesterday's ninth inning rally demonstrates that Oneonta has a fighting ball team. When everybody thought the game was Kingston's the Giants took firm grip on their bats and pounded their way to victory in as nice a ninth inning rally as has ever been staged on the local ball lot.

Culliton, the Kingston ace, will probably be shoved into the breach today in an endeavor to stop the Giants. Manager Thomas has not announced his choice but Davis, Walsh and Roche are all in good shape and ready to take the mound.

On Sunday the Giants will play two games at Schenectady with Chapple Johnson's Colored Stars. On Monday and Tuesday Larry Doyle's Glens Falls team will be the attraction at Neahwa park, two games which local fans are eagerly anticipating.

NEAR EAST SALE CLOSES

Exhibition of Handwork of Refugee Mothers, Ends Tonight.

The sale and exhibition of handwork of the refugee mothers of the Near East will close tonight (Saturday night). Through the courtesy and interest of Frank Stevens of Stevens Hardware company, the sale has been carried on in that store all week. One of large front windows been graciously given over to a display of this really beautiful and unique needle work.

The purpose of the exhibition has been accomplished. Those who saw this work realized that the women whose fingers achieved these fine even stitches, whose brains conceived the beautiful and intricate designs, were industrious and intelligent and rare skill. This work was all made by the hands of refugee mothers living in the Near East caring for their own fatherless children and in many cases the orphaned children of relatives or friends. The children in the Near East Relief orphanages are not only orphans but friendless, relationless. The refugee mothers support the children in their care by means of their needlework.

Prices range from 50c to $17.50. Miss Dorothy Meadows of New York city is in charge of the sale and has been assisted by the women of the First Baptist church, the Main Street Baptist church, The Catholic Daughters of Oneonta, the two troops of Girl Scouts, and the ladies of the guild of St. James Episcopal church.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.
 The Ladies' Aid society of the United Presbyterian church met in the church parlors yesterday afternoon to sew on rag rugs for the bazaar, which is to be held in the fall for the benefit of the general fund of the society. Several committees, including a rug, quilt, fancy work, apron and pin pad committees, have been appointed to assist in preparing for the bazaar.

Miss Manners to Read.
 Miss Dorothy Manners, representing the Near East Relief, will read several selections at the Stevens' Victor shop Saturday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock and in the evening from 8 to 9. The public is urged to avail itself of this opportunity to enjoy a profitable hour with the best that the modern theatre can afford.

VUDOR Ventilating Porch Shades for Sleeping Porches

Deep, refreshing sleep comes easily to the person who occupies a VUDOR shaded porch. To anyone who has slept out-of-doors on a VUDOR enclosed porch during the spring and summer months, any indoor bedrooms seem unbearably close and "stuffy."

The VUDOR Ventilator woven in the top of each VUDOR porch shade is of the greatest importance for sleeping porches, as it gives ventilation without draft.

VUDORS come in beautiful, permanent oil colors. Let us demonstrate them to you. They are not expensive.

A Wedding Follows After.

Following the commencement exercises on Wednesday, there came a very pleasant event on Thursday morning, when at the hour of seven

The Hartwick Seminary church, which was filled to overflowing with students, friends and relatives, Miss Irene Seybold, teacher of English in the seminary, was married to Rev. Arthur Schroeder of the theological graduating class. The church had been beautifully decorated with flowers by her pupils. Rev. Dr. Frank Wolford performed the ceremony. Mrs. Wolford presided at the organ, and solos, "O Promise Me," and "O Perfect Day," were sung by Cornelius Thomas. Following the recessive ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Fenimore, Cooperstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder will spend their honeymoon on Otsego lake. They will remain in camp for about a week and, on Sunday, July 6, Rev. Schroeder will preach the first sermon of his pastorate at Hudson Heights.

SCHOOL DAYS AT DAVENPORT.

Many Attend Rehearsal Services, Plays and Commencement.

Davenport, June 27. — The baccalaureate services held Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church were largely attended and the sermon by Rev. E. R. D. Briggs was very impressive and thoughtful and was much appreciated by the graduating class and all who attended.

The two entertainments given on Monday evening by the grades of the high school—the play, "Lost Pocketbook," and the operetta, "Florida,"—were well received and were much appreciated by the audience.

Tuesday evening the opera house was crowded to witness the play, "The Little Clod Hopper," put on by the students of the high school. The play was one of the best ever put on here and every one having part received many compliments. The Western orchestra of the Methodist Episcopal church, Oneonta furnished some classical music, Maurice Reynolds, the boy drummer, being envious by all the small boys of the town.

Standing room was almost at a premium at the opera house Wednesday evening when friends from far and near came to witness the commencement exercises of the graduating class of the Davenport High school. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and the music was furnished by the Western orchestra of the Methodist Episcopal church.

church. Attorney Claude V. Smith of Oneonta was the speaker. His remarks were very timely and instructive. The graduates are seven in number. Their recitations and declamations were all well rendered.

About 30 graduates of recent years of the Davenport High school were present at the banquet held at the Elks' rooms Thursday evening. A very pleasant time was enjoyed. An annual association was arranged with Walter J. Graig, president, Edward Smith, vice president, Mildred Hillis, secretary, and John Graig, treasurer.

HELD FOR MURDER OF ESTRANGED WIFE

Second Time Man Has Been Under Suspicion for Murder of His Spouse

Herkimer, June 27. — John Henry House was arrested last night in his farm home at Columbia Center, south of here, charged with the murder of his wife. The woman's body was found in a house owned by Jacob Shaul in Columbia Center, where she had resided since leaving House some time ago. According to Assistant District Attorney James H. Green, House admitted the slaying, declaring he killed her in self defense after she had attacked him with a butcher's knife.

Conner Maillon of Ilion said the woman's throat had been slashed twice with a knife and that blood was found on House's shoes and clothing.

House and his wife were married about two years ago but separated and trial of a separation suit was to begin here shortly.

The affair marks the second time House has been under suspicion for murder of his wife. He has been married several times. It was learned, and some years ago his wife was found dead in his house with a rope around her neck. House declared she had committed suicide by hanging and after extensive questioning he was released from custody.

The Great JORDAN Line Eight

[Trademark]

An aristocratic and distinctly higher priced companion for the tried and true Jordan Silhouette Six which will be continued without change in quality or price.

DASHING—daring—debonair—The Great Jordan Line Eight eagerly awaits the approval of all red blooded Americans.

Everybody expected that Jordan would be first with a quality Eight in the medium price field.

Now it's happened.

The Great Line Eight—these four words—constitute a trademark for Jordan protection. How fascinating to pronounce. A little staccato today, perhaps, but so rhythmically off the tongue—The Great Line Eight—you will not forget them. They will certainly be on every tongue.

Sincerely measured by practical standards this truly remarkable and rarely interesting new line car is a better automobile than America has produced.

It's the product of proud, painstaking engineers.

Just a lot of brains put to work with inspiring results.

Just a thousand little things to please the owner, enhance beauty, increase comfort, add a thrill to performance, insure lasting economy and service, and finally, guarantee high resale value.

Speed—Pep—Get-Up-and-Go

Aside from the favored few Bill Jones, the motorcycle cop in Pumpkin Center, can tell you most about The Great Line Eight.

Of course he had to be let in on the test over five measured mile—5260 feet in fifty seconds.

He discovered that the difference between going fifty miles an hour and doing seventy is the difference between guiding a farm horse to water and riding Black Gold in the derby.

The smooth, sustained speed of The Great Line Eight is strangely deceiving—forty feels like twenty five—sixty like fifty—seventy like going somewhere—and seventy five has happened.

Of course it's crazy, but those of us who are afraid of forty like to feel we could do seventy-five.

It's the most efficient eight ever built in the world. Crawl along at two miles per hour without shifting. Then snap at seven fifty without shifting yourself without losing speed.

How Does It Look?

Yes, brush or pencil cannot portray the charm of a car like this.

Good looks largely depend upon how you feel.

What we are trying to say is what we know some women feel.

One looks so dumpy in an old fashioned bulky car. One feels so ordinary in a cheap car—like pushing on the lines with an old horse and buggy.

Of course it's low—of course it's different—of course it's distinctive—because it's a Jordan.

Why shouldn't it be?

New bodies—new lines—new radiator—new motor—new frame—new axles—new transmission—new wheels—new balloon tires—new starting and lighting—new balloon steering—new comfort—new springs—new cushions—new snubbers—new upholstery—new universals—new brakes—new top—new fenders—new instrument arrangement—new appointments—new colors—new thrills—new sensations—new prices—new everything.

Now Jordan Challenges the World

Adventure awaits you in The Great Jordan Line Eight.

Speedometers may lie in the ordinary car. You will not have time to look in the Jordan. Back seat drivers can't guess your speed.

Women weary of the drab and commonplace will be quick to sense the subtle charm—the sturdy masculine line—the sheer personality—the interesting something which makes this car a dominant, definite, daringly interesting thing.

Straight off the bat let's run through this car from motor to tail light.

Lamps—larger, full nickeled, different.

Splasher—new, attractive, covers the front frame ends.

Spring shackles—velvet, no rattle, always lubricated.

Fenders—new, deep section beaded crown. Balloon tires—bickory wheels.

Springs—with every leaf Chrome Vanadium.

Brakes—hydraulic, the only satisfactory kind.

Frame—seven inches deep, designed to carry closed bodies, minus side sway, minus weaving, minus body sagging, minus rattles.

New Gabriel snubbers all around.

Radiator—new design, higher, nickel plated over brass. Balloon steering.

Short turning radius, responsive to the finger touch.

New Horn—new gas tank—new fan—husky crankshaft. Pressure lubrication.

Three breathers—do you know what those are?

Four point motor support.

Boesh ignition, starting and lighting—interesting, isn't it?

Air cleaner. What's that? Rotary type. Taking orders different from every other eight. That's what gives The Great Line Eight perfect carburetion.

Transmission a revelation. Imagine a smooth sounding second gear.

Oil tight universal joints—the best axle ever built in the world.

Running boards wide, aluminum moulded, low hung.

Instrument board—well, you won't get tired looking at it.

Waltham speedometer—Waltham clock—eight days without worry.

Brewster windshield. Automatic cleaner?—yes.

Rear vision mirror.

Hardware of old New England design.

Upholstery—you might as well know—it's specially woven to make a woman like it. We want her to like the first look in the car.

Marshall cushion springs—that's that old thing you call comfort.

Ventilator with three adjustments.

See for Yourself

Oh! You can go on, but type doesn't say it—words can't tell it—go and look at the cars.

They will be on every dealer's floor very soon. There are hundreds of dealers to supply, so they can't be there tomorrow or the next day.

Call up the Jordan dealer. Ask him when he will show The Great Line Eight. Thousands and thousands of Jordan owners will be favored with deliveries first. They have had confidence in the Jordan for years. They are our friends.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The first move of the La Follette convention, called for Cleveland July 4, promises to be a physical one. The demand for representation as delegates from this, that and the other organization qualified for representation is so heavy that the present outlook is the B. of L. E. auditorium, where the meetings were first scheduled, would be packed to the doors with the delegates alone. There would be no room for "distinguished progressives," attending in a personal, not a delegate, capacity. There would be no room for merely "interested" visitors, whom the conference hopes to convert to active support of its candidate and platform.

Last but not least, there would be no room for the newspaper and magazine representatives. And without these last there would be no adequate dissemination of the news of the event, on which to a great degree hangs the understanding of and support for the conference's conclusions.

Wherefore, in days before the conference was due to meet, a hurry-up call was sent out by Arthur H. Hilder, secretary of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, under which the meeting is called, to find a larger hall. The Grays' armory, with double the seating capacity of the first auditorium, seems now the likely choice. If that proves too small, there still remains the great ball hall which even the Republican convention failed to fill in its early sessions.

The first Washington endorsement of the conference is the Democratic conference.

It has been hoped that the Democrats would write their platform and name their candidates before the progressives assembled. That would simplify matters, not merely in respect to platform but also on candidates.

Should the "impossible" happen and Mr. La Follette draw the Democratic nomination out of the New York arena, a great block of the delegates attending the Cleveland conference would at once lose their enthusiasm over an independent or third party candidate.

This would be true especially of the delegates representing the great railway brotherhoods and affiliated organizations, loyal though they are to La Follette.

Mr. La Follette would put his name in the running, a real platform and a puzzling problem.

Should the New York nomination, as is unlikely, be delayed until July 4 or later, excuse will be found for marking time at Cleveland until at least Monday, July 7, before taking up the issue of a candidate.

DELEGATES and visitors to the Cleveland conference will be confronted at the convention hall by the starting query, blazoned on striking handbills:

"Are You a Catus?" This is to warn delegates in advance, so they may not fight first and inquire the meaning of the word later. Being asked if you are a Catus doesn't mean that you are suspected of being some new brand of mental or moral renegade.

A Catus, instead, is a perfectly proper patriot.

Indeed, according to the "American Business Man" (famous for the publication of the handbills, one cannot be a genuine, 100 per cent, 24-hour patriot without belonging to the La Follette Catus, the name of which is "Catus" without proof.

Definitely, the organization, which draws its name from the initials of "Citizens of the U. S. A.," seeks to stop the reign of rumor and gossip about the honesty and integrity of public officials.

Mercury Forced From Ore by Distillation

Probably the largest exposed deposit of cinnabar, or quicksilver, ore, is that forming the mountain from which the town of Black Butte, Ore., derives its name. There a vein 400 feet wide has been opened for more than a mile along the mountain at a depth of 1,000 feet below the crest. In Europe the chief mines are at Almaden, in Spain, and at Idria, a town 25 miles from Trieste.

The process of obtaining the mercury is called distillation. After being crushed, the ore is subjected to intense heat, 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit. When the ore has attained the necessary temperature, the mercury is driven off in the form of vapor. This vapor is passed into large wooden or brick chambers called "condensers" which are surrounded by water jackets and other devices designed to reduce the temperature. In these chambers the vapor is condensed, the quicksilver remaining a metallic form and being deposited in fine globules on the walls and floors. These globules, as they increase in size, merge and run out in troughs ready to be marketed. The product is shipped in wrought-iron tanks weighing fourteen pounds each and holding seventy-five and one-half pounds of the metal, for which the dealer contracts at the market price.

Ancient Authors Had Variety of Interests

To prolong the life of man for thousands of years to melt precious stones and pearls and give them desired shape, size and color, to enable a man to fast for six months or more without losing his health and life; to cause new teeth to grow in the place of fallen teeth—such are some of the benefits to mankind aimed at as revealed by an ancient library belonging to Doctor Syed, M. D., Kassim, Patharghat, Hyderabad, says the Scientific American.

This library contains rare and valuable ancient books and manuscripts on palm-leaf leaves, written in almost all the languages of India. Some of them seem to be the works of the hoary Vedic period.

In one book is described a kind of wireless telegraphy in which two stone plates are to be prepared and placed at great distance from each other without any wire connection. It is said that communications can be carried thousands of miles by means of these.

Didn't Mix Well

"Miss Curlycue," murmured the office manager to the stenographer, "I don't wanna be harsh. Nothing like that, I really don't."

"Let's have the answer," said the dame nonchalantly. "What's gone wrong now?"

"I just wanna ask you not to write your young man during business hours. Letters are apt to get mixed. Herb & Co. are shipping you a shipment of love and kisses instead of the axle grease they ordered."

GOVERNMENT TAKES UP STUDY OF MOLE

Demand for Animal's Fur Inspires U. S. Officials.

Washington.—There has grown up a demand for mole skins and as the market for them develops, interest in them and how best to raise them without suffering too greatly by their depredations has become so great that the fur experts at Washington have made a special study of the subject and have published a booklet in which is apparent a marked pessimistic note. Until recently the supply of mole skins has come from abroad, but as the demand for them increases attention has been called to the fact that in certain parts of the United States there are moles that are bigger than those of alien birth and with fur of a better texture.

Steady efforts have always been made to protect and to propagate fur animals but no such attempt has ever been made in regard to the mole. The experts say that the only effect the growing demand for the fur will have will be to stimulate the trapping of them.

Mole Is Not a Rodent.

Contrary to general belief, the mole is not a rodent, and it can be easily distinguished from the shrew and the pocket gopher by its short, stout front legs. If not totally blind, the common mole can at best merely distinguish between light and darkness. What remains of its organs of sight lie wholly beneath the skin. The mole lives below the surface of the earth, as those know who have seen their lawns full of holes. Whatever experiences of life the mole has come to him through his sensitive touch, acute hearing and highly developed powers of smell. Part of the information which the government has placed between the covers of the pamphlet reads:

"Certain galleries or passages leading from the deeper central system tend upward here and there to join the shallow sub-surface runs that stretch out over the mole's hunting grounds. Through these runs the little animal hurries along at irregular intervals in search of food and, when occasion demands, extends the limits of its operations by pushing out into untouched soil. As it extends its sub-surface runways, the movement of the mole is almost literally one of swimming."

"As to seasonal activity, it may be said that moles are probably never dormant, that they never hibernate. They may be trapped at any time of the year when the ground is not frozen too hard to permit the working of the trap."

Three to Four in Litter.

The general belief that moles are rapid breeders is declared to be wrong because:

"Their life of seclusion shelters them from many of the dangers that constantly threaten the existence of the small mammals living above ground. As moles, with enormous numbers from generation to generation a rapid rate of increase, therefore, is not necessary. The young are brought forth early in spring in rudely constructed nests of half-green grass stubble and rootlets. The number in a litter is commonly three or four."

"Moles grow and develop with astonishing rapidity. In the Puget Sound country most of the young are born in the latter half of March and spend the month of April in the nests. By the last of May they are so well grown that the ordinary observer would not be likely to distinguish them from the adult moles."

"A mole's appetite seems to be almost insatiable. When held in captivity and given food to its liking it will sometimes eat more than its own weight in a day."

"The character of the food has been the subject of much discussion, but the multiplied evidence of digestive tract, dentition, stomach content and choice of food when in captivity leaves no doubt that the mole is a voracious animal, though vegetable matter is found in its stomach."

Little Subject to Attacks.

"On account of its secluded life the mole is little subject to attacks by the many foes of other small mammals. Its burrow is so small that no formidable enemy, except, perhaps, the weasel or the snake, can follow it underground, and as it seldom leaves its passageways there is little chance of its being seen by predatory animals."

However, the movement of the soil when a mole is working near the surface may readily be detected by a watchful eye, and it is probable that hungry denizens of the wild secure a morsel of food now and then by springing suddenly upon a disturbed spot of earth and hurriedly digging out the furry little animal."

"Among birds of prey the hawk and owl take only a small toll from the mole tribe."

"The solution of the problem of getting rid of the mole as a pest has been found in the value of the pelts to the fur trade. Until recently the little animal had been regarded more with the aim of exterminating a nuisance than of utilizing its skin. It is significant of our lack of attention to small business matters that American mole-skins were not sooner quoted or offered on the market. Mole-skin garments have been fashionable in this country, particularly in the large eastern cities, for many years, and fur dealers consider it probable that unfashioned mole pelts will continue indefinitely to have a market value, the value fluctuating, of course, with the demands of fashion and the available supply."

No Short Cut to Success

There is no easy road to success. It means constant hard work and saving, and many sacrifices. However, the ultimate satisfaction of having accomplished something of value is infinitely greater than all the material pleasures indulged in by the lazy man or the spendthrift.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Disturbance

Two members of the Colorado delegation who figured prominently in the Klan row that broke out in the Democratic Convention floor, Thomas J. Early (man in the Palm Beach suit) and Charles Ginsberg, members of Colorado delegation who tried to take the state banner in a procession that had formed to protest against the Klan. Other members of that delegation tore the banner from them, precipitating a near-riot.

Victory Achieved in Keeping Soul Young

Byron reminds us that "time writes no wrinkles on the azure brow of the ocean," but can we say that there is any other brow anywhere upon which he does not place his tell-tale marks? We look into the glass with a close scrutiny some day and the face that greets us there shows unmistakable signs of his passing.

And yet we wonder if it is quite right to blame all that we see in the glass on Time, when we think of the needless worry and fret with which we crowd our lives. But the brow of a man's soul—is it not possible to keep it free from the furrows and scars and wrinkles that are left elsewhere?

Even if we have to allow that the weight of the years and the years' cares and responsibilities and disappointments must lead down the frame a little, and take from the step something of its elasticity, might we not hope that the soul would be able to keep young and fresh and buoyant through all the years?

If we could manage to keep the soul young, why need we care what else may happen? If we could learn the secret of how that could be done would it not be one of the finest lessons we had learned all our life through?—Exchange.
